Access Statement for Sowerberry

Introduction

Sowerberry is one of three holiday cottages located in a secluded corner of Alston, a charming historic little town in the heart of the North Pennines Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty. Alston is built on a hill so nowhere in the town is totally flat but the approach to the cottages is on a gradual slope. The centre of the town is a steep cobbled hill and the approach to our cottages is via narrow streets surfaced with pavements.

Sowerberry is one of our two new-build cottages. Nearly ten years ago the site was used during the filming of Oliver Twist, being the site where he was introduced to Sowerberry, the undertaker. At that time the site was just a piece of waste land, but Sowerberry now stands here, constructed on old foundations, possibly of Mediaeval origin, discovered during the building project. This house is an "upside-down" house: The bedrooms which are on the ground floor are traditionally furnished. An open staircase leads from the hall to the totally open plan, spacious living area upstairs. Here you will find a stylish well equipped kitchen, modern dining area, and a living room with French windows leading out onto a pleasant balcony with views towards the churchyard and the nearby fells....just the place for a relaxing holiday

Our cottages are located in a secluded corner of Alston and our visitors appreciate the peace and quiet and the lovely country walks you can do from the cottages but at the same time like having all the convenience of shops and places to eat within 5 minutes walk of our cottages.

We look forward to welcoming you. If you have any queries or require any assistance please phone 01434 382975 or email enquiries@holidaycottagesalston.co.uk.

- The centre of the town is a steep cobbled hill and the approach to our cottages is via narrow streets surfaced with pavements.
- It is possible to hire a shopmobility power assisted wheelchair from the "Local Links" Information Centre situated in the Town Hall.
- We can organise shopping to be delivered if required.

Key Collection, Welcome and Car Parking

- The three holiday cottages are part of a development of four architect designed cottages which blend together old and new development. The owners live in one of the cottages (called "Pigeons" and with Visit Britain and reception sign at entrance) and they will normally be on hand to welcome visitors and give them a familiarisation tour of the cottages , give them the key and help them to get parked if they need any assistance.
- If the owners are not available they will try and organise another person to provide a welcome service. Very occasionally this may not be possible in which case the alternative arrangements will be clearly given with contact telephone nos. for key collection and a welcome note will hopefully provide the guest with essential information.
- One parking space per cottage is available and due to the topography of the site the parking space for Millstream is on a slope with a flagged surface, and a step down on the driver's side. There is a gentle slope upwards to the cottage with approx. 4m of pavements to cross to get to the front door.
